Celebrating the achievement of women and girls of ethnic minority origin living in Wales

Newsletter 2023

Good evening, Noswaith dda and Namaskar,

I am privileged today to welcome everyone to this ceremony to celebrate the talent of our worthy women and girls in Wales. So, first, a huge round of applause for all our finalists. What a momentous time to hold our celebrations immediately a week after the unforgettable and glorious King's Coronation.

Today marks the 7th EMWWAA (Ethnic Minority Welsh Women Achievement Association) award ceremony and 14 years since the launch of this initiative in 2010. We are proud to be able to host it today here at this iconic building with all of you.

We are honoured to welcome the Right Honourable Mark Drakeford, MS First Minister of Wales as our chief guest; my sincere gratitude for his continued support of our organisation and our condolences to him for his recent precious loss.

This year, we received a record number of high-calibre nominations. We were particularly pleased to get nominations for refugees fleeing Syria, Afghanistan, and Ukraine. I am ever so grateful to Dr Rhian Morgan and Dr Juping Yu from our selection committee, who had the challenging task of scoring the nominees by subjecting them to a 10-point grid system and our prestigious honourable panel of judges who interviewed 48 finalists in half a day. All our finalists are high achievers, and they are winners for me. When I first started my journey several decades ago, I could not find a single role model in Wales from an ethnic minority background; now we have many more than 100. It would not have been possible without your support and the EMWWAA award initiative, and our recent book, Seventy Years of Struggle and Achievement is a testament to it.

I congratulate and celebrate the recent distinguished achievements of some of our BME EMWWAA winners or finalists - ShavanaTaj becoming the first BME General Secretary of Wales TUC, Kamila Hawthorne the first ethnic minority woman to be the President of the Royal College of General Practice, Rocio Cifuentes, the first Children Commissionaire in Wales, Uzo Iwobi CBE, the first BME specialist advisor in the Welsh Government, Julie Sangani, the first BME Cabinet member in Cardiff Council and finally Bablin Molik, the first woman of colour as Lord Mayor-elect in South Glamorgan. These are just a few examples. My apologies if some have not been mentioned this evening, and we are always delighted to hear about your achievements if you would like to get in touch. A big round of applause for all past EMWWAA family members, and we are very proud to hear about your success stories.

Events such as the murder of George Floyd and the disproportionate impact of the Covid-19 pandemic led to the launch of the Antiracist Action Plan last year by the Wales Government, the first of its type in the world. The success of this plan is incumbent on the diverse communities in Wales working in unison. To that effect, EMWWAA, in collaboration with the Welsh Government (supported by the community and organisation leaders) is holding a music and culture event to promote Community Cohesion within and across communities in Wales on 2nd July at 2 pm at the City Hall – please do look at the flyers that we have distributed. This event will aid in bringing together diverse grassroots organisations/communities to celebrate our diverse cultures and highlight the importance of community cohesion. Further details of the event; and how to register for it can be found on our website.

Last year our sister organisation, Ethnic Minority Women in Welsh Healthcare, EMWWH organised a brilliant conference on the highly topical crucial issue- Health Inequalities, Chaired by Prof Sue Wong, and it was much appreciated by the attendees. Given an immense appetite to continue with this theme, we propose to organise another meeting at the end of this or next year.

I express my heartiest gratitude to our sponsors (Cardiff University, Welsh Government, Unite Cymru, HEIW, BAWSO, Chwarae Teg, University of South Wales, Oxfam Cymru, Hwb Cymru Africa, University of Wales Trinity Saint David, Unison, Meithrin Cymru, Loud and Clear and RCC). We also thank our three ambassadors from the 2021 award ceremony for their support. I am grateful to our comperes for this evening, Shavanah Taj and Cllr Patience Bentu. I extend my gratitude to our esteemed judges, the Selection Committee, our patrons, the EMWWAA Management Committee, the artists, the volunteers, the guests, the attendees, all nominators, and last but not least, the applicants and their families. I thank all of you for coming together to this ceremony and adding more grace to it. I hope you find this evening enjoyable and inspirational.

Chief Guest

Rt Hon Mark Drakeford M.S, First Minister of Wales

Mark was born and brought up in west Wales before moving to Cardiff more than 30 years ago. Since then he has lived in the Pontcanna area of Cardiff. A former probation officer, youth justice worker and Barnardos project leader in Ely and Caerau, he has been a professor of Social Policy and Applied Social Sciences at Cardiff University. Mark has also taught previously at Swansea University.

In the 1980s and 1990s Mark was a Labour Councillor on South Glamorgan County Council, specialising in education issues, including Welsh medium education. Between 2000 and 2010 he worked as the Cabinet's health and social policy adviser at the Welsh Government, and was latterly head of the First Minister's political office. He has a 40 year knowledge of the Cardiff West constituency.

Mark became the Assembly Member for Cardiff West in May 2011. He was Chair of the Assembly's Health and Social Care Committee from July 2011 - March 2013 and of the All-Wales Programme Monitoring Committee for European funds from July 2011 – March 2013. He was appointed Minister for Health and Social Services in March 2013. He was appointed Cabinet Secretary for Finance and Local Government in May 2016. Mark was appointed Cabinet Secretary for Finance on 3 November 2017. On 12 December 2018 Mark was appointed First Minister of Wales and became a member of the Privy Council on 13 February 2019. Mark was appointed First Minister on 13 May 2021.

Presenters

Shavanah Taj

Shavanah Taj is Wales TUC's first BME General Secretary. She joined Wales TUC in February 2019, from the Public and Commercial Services Union (PCS), where she had been the Welsh Secretary since 2013 and served as a National union official since 2002, representing workers across the Welsh, and UK Government departments. Shavanah serves as a trustee on several charity boards and is a Commissioner for the Constitutional Future for Wales. Shavanah is a passionate campaigner and can often be found contributing speeches at round tables, debates, protest marches and makes regular appearances in press and media on issues such as anti-racism, human rights, women's rights, climate change, fair pay and fair work.

Patience Bentu

Councillor Patience Bentu's background is in Politics and International Development, with focus on Diversity, Inclusion and Representation in policy and Implementation areas. She is the first Nigerian woman to become an elected councillor in Wales, worked in various roles in the Public, Private and Third sectors. She is the Diversity, Inclusion and Antiracism Partner in the office of the Future Generations Commissioner for Wales, where she offers support and advice on the sustainable goal of a more equal Wales for future generations in their work with Public Bodies, Public Service Boards, and other stakeholders. She is a recipient of the 2021 Ethnic Minority Welsh Women Achievement Association (EMWWAA) award for Self – Development; and the Rhodri Morgan award for Wales. Councillor Bentu is a proud mother of a teenage son and an ardent lover of music.

Entertainment

SAMYOG

By Dr Santosh Nair, Dr Suchitra Rajan, Dr Leena Menon, Ann Sunny Poulouse, Malavika Babu

Samarpan Nrithyalaya is delighted to present SAMYOG, a collaborative dance of different styles. It is our very humble attempt to showcase different dance styles from India, Far east and Africa. It is a fusion of Bharathanatyam, Kathak, classical dance styles from India, an Oriental dance from the Far East and an African drum based dance. The dancers are trained in Indian classical dance and make NO claim to have trained in the other dance styles. So please accept our humble apology if we have erred!

SOMALI DANCE

By Zainab, Fatima and Nagad

Zainab Mattan (15 yrs) and Fatima Sheikh (14 yrs) are performing traditional Somali dance, with Nagad on the drums. The dance is a traditional dance, it is about the nature and life in countryside during harvest.

AFRICAN DANCE

By Aida

Aida has an infectious energy with an enigmatic personality and freely shares her knowledge, skill and joviality without holding back. Born in Ouakam village; home of the Lebou ethnic group of Senegal, Aida started dancing Sabar at a very young age. Together with other artists, they formed the group 'Jappo' meaning 'together' in Ouakam. From this group, Aida was scouted by Landing Mane who became her mentor and teacher in 1997. She added djembe dancing to her repertoire and went on to join Ballet Africain de Sanghoma which led to a tour with Daara-j in Senegal and abroad. In 2009 Aida joined Bakalama de Thionkessyl and had the opportunity to teach Sabar and Djembe dance at the American school at the U.S Embassy in Senegal. In addition, Aida has carried out workshops in various schools and venues and holds regular weekly classes in London.
